WASHINGTON LETTER.

(From our Regular Correspondent.)

Washington, Nov. 12th, 1904.

Editor Press:—

There are three roses on the Roosevelt coat of arms. They are not displayed as symbols of secrecy as was the custom with the ancients for no man is more outspoken and above board than the President. The day after election the leading business men of Washington thronged the White House to congratulate its occupant, and each of them brought a rose, until Mr. Roosevelt found his arms full—just as four years ago great bunches of carnatious were given to President McKinley. Among the callers on Wednesday was the aged widow of Gen. Anderson, of Fort Sumter fame, with a big bunch of the heraldic flowers in her hands. The President hastened to her carriage to save her the trouble of alighting. The contrast between the two was worthy of note. Mr. Roosevelt could hardly have been more than two years of age when the husbaud of this woman was heroically defending the fort under his command. When your correspondent first made the acquaintance of Mrs. Gen. Anderson, she was a guest at Cranston's famone New York Hotel, which was long since disappeared from Broadway in the great city. Then she was handsome, vivacious and in the full vigor of middle life, with dark hair and eyes. Now she is gray, wan and feeble. These little home incidents show in what estimation the President is held by his neighbors.

The telegrams of congratulation which have been poring into the White House, over ten thousand in number, are stacked up in piles two feet high. The one which the President says touched him the most came from the widow of Preident McKinley. The most remarkable telegram was from the Emperor of Germany. The first message of congratulation to arrive, as early as half past eight o'clock, came from Judge Parker! The news of the Roosevelt landslide came first to the President's ears from one of his sons while he was at dinner. The boy had been watching for the returns in the Executive offices; he outran the messenger and burst into the dining room with, "Pop! You've carried New York by a big majority!"

Everywhere in Washington folks are asking each other how it happened? All admit that the President's personality was one of the most potent factors in winning the election. He impresses all whom he comes in contact, as being sincere, honest, purposeful, resourceful and intelligent as well as gentlemanly. Besides these characteristics he has the courage of his convictions, and no man needs it more than the President of the United States. The day after the election flags were displayed from private houses in all parts of the city; a general feeling of relief was experienced that the great contest has passed peacefully away without disturbing business of embittering sections. The coming inauguration is now talked about, and it is admitted that it will be one of the largest and most impressive ever seen in Washington. Word comes from Cleveland, Ohio, of the purpose of a regiment in that city to participate and your correspondent learns that a regiment from Boston, which participated in the September Manassas maneuvers, will leave on a special train March 1st, 1905 for this city.

Drove of Deer.

Harry Sprung, Bert Shoupe and others met a drove of ten deer, while hunting at Dents Run. They captured three deer and a doe.

A Woodchuck's Winter.

The woodchuck always gathers and stores away food all the spring, summer and autumn, but he stores it away in his own body—in other words, he eats it, says an exchange. And he eats so moch that by fall he is as fat as a pig. Then when he has dug for himself a long winding borrow, and made at the end of it a snug nest of leavers or grass, all he has to do is to block the entrance with earth and leaves and curl up in his bed and sleep until the spring, when he comes out little more than a bag of bones.

Star Course Chart.

The chart for the Star Course series of entertainments will open at Lloyd's book store, Tuesday, Nov. 22, at 7 a. m. Seats will be assigned in the order applied for, but no person will be permitted to reserve more than six seats.

It will be the purpose of the management to treat all patrons with equal and absolute fairness and the fact that all seats in the court room are for entertainment purposes most excellent, should allay any anxiety lest the accommodation desired be not secured.

Liberal Advertising.

HOW IT MADE A BUSY MART OF A GRAVEYARD CORNER.

Plenty of thinking business men who read of the successes of merchants in cities realize that the foundation of every successful merchandising project is printer's ink. Yet these same business men—many of them—fail to grasp the idea sufficiently to benefit themselves. They either cannot write an advertisement or think they can't, or else they lack the nerve to invest the money in newspaper space, circulars and other printed matter and are unwilling to wait the results that are sure to follow persistent and consistent advertising methods.

We find in nearly every village plenty of business men who are willing to invest in all sorts of outside speculations. They will take a throw at far-away mining ventures and stock speculations. Promoters find it easy to interest them in most any kind of a speculation that figures out a profit on paper. Yet these same business men will refuse to invest more than $50, $100 or possibly $200 yearly in printer's ink. Many of them never spend a dollar in advertising, yet they should realize that there is no way in which they might invest money to yield a greater profit and no way more certain to make money that to invest it in newspaper space and other plans of legitimate publicity wherein printer's ink is employed.

These things are frequently brought home to us, and in no way has the success of a business been so forcibly demonstrated to a community by the judicious and liberal use of printer's ink than in the upbuilding and successful conduct of the business of the Ottawa Store company, that last week closed a successful career of six and a half years of merchandising in Ottawa.

Mr. D. D. Gayman, the owner of the business, realized when he began business here in the spring of 1898 that he must invest money liberally in printer's ink, and for the first two years he spent $150 a month in advertising.—Ottawa (O.) Gazette.

The Christmas Delineator.

The December Delineator, with its message of good cheer and helpfulness, will be welcomed to every home. The fashion pages are unusually attractive, illustrating and describing the very latest modes in a way to make their constrution during the busy festive season a pleasure instead of a task, and the literary and pictorial features are of rare excellence. A selection of Love Songs from the Wagner Operas, Rendered into English by Richard de Galliene and beautifully illustrated in colors by J. C. Leyendecker, occupies a prominent place, and a chapter in the composers' Series, relating the romance of Wagner and Cosima, is an interesting supplement to the lyrics. A very clever paper entitled "The Court Circles of the Republic," describes some unique phases of Washington social life is from an unnamed contributor, who is said to write from the inner circles of society. There are short stories from the pens of F. Hopkinson Smith, Robert Grant, Alice Brown, Mary Stewart Cutting and Elmore Elliott Peake, and such interesting writers as Julia Magruder, L. Frank Baum and Grace MacGowan Cooke hold the attention of the children. Many Christmas suggestions are given in needle work and the cookery pages are redolent of the Christmas feast. In addition, there are the regular departments of the magazine, with many special articles on topics relating to woman's interests within and without the home.

BRIEF MENTION.

A wreck at Huntley on Monday delayed all trains.

The brick work on Geo. J. LaBar's new building is completed.

A good pastry cook can secure a permanent position by applying at New Warner at once.

Don't forget the Bowling Match tonight at James Creighton's bowling room. Admission, 25c.

The next foot ball game will be between Ridgway and Emporium, Nov. 26th. Remember the date.

One thousand voters in Lycoming county, like many in Cameron, placed the X in the Presidential Elector box.

Numerous parties are laying stone walks in front of their properties. Hemlock walks are rapidly disappearing.

Harry Johnson was killed at Ridgway on Saturday while attempting to jump on a freight train. It is a wonder more boys are not killed or maimed for life. Hardly a train passes Emporium without a number of town boys jumping it.

Sig. Sautelle has sold his circus to J. T. McCaddon. Sautelle named his own price, which was somewhere in the neighborhood of $100,000. The property will be transferred to Paris where he will establish a permanent American circus.

The borough authorities should see to it that refuse matter such as potato pealings, dishwater, tin cans, etc., are not thrown on our public thoroughfares. We are sorry to say this is being done in some parts of town and is extremely dangerous to the health of the community.

Every department of the Renovo shops is rushed with orders and in order to keep up with the unusual activity many of the employees are working 13 hours per day. It is a common sight to see the men retnrning home at 10 o'clock at night, and some of them have even had to work all night to hurry particularly pressing work.

Charles M. Schwab: I am positive that business will now show an improvement. Politics has been playing a very significant figure in the past two years in all branches of trade. I am unable to ascribe any definite reason for the fact, business men have been somewhat worried concerning the recent election. Consumers hold orders in abeyance. But now that the question has been satisfactorily adjusted, I anticipate a great revival in business."

An exchange condenses a whole lot of truth into the following paragraph: There is only one way to advertise and that is to hammer your name, your business and your location constantly, so persistently and so thoroughly into the prople's heads that if they walked in their sleep they would constantly turn their faces towards your store. The newspaper is your best friend in spite of your criticism. It helps to build up the community that supports you. When the day comes that the newspapers are dead the people are near the edge of the grave, with no one to write their epitaph or say nice things about them.

Senator Sisson.

The Erie Times has these happy words to say of Senator Sisson, husband of former Miss Lena Spencer, niece of Mrs. Laura Bryan:

"The people showed their faith in Senator Sisson yesterday by giving him the finest kind of an endorsement in both city and county. He has made such a faithful official in every public position he has held that our people could not have thought of doing anything else than return him by a rousing majority. Of all the members of the state senator none stood higher than did Senator Sisson. He was recognized there as one of the most reliable and conscientious as well as one of the most untiring workers. During the term to which he was elected yesterday the senator will play a still more important part in the legislation of the state and he will be in a position to accomplish much more for this city than during his first term. Erie could send no better citizen to represent her in the senate of Pennsylvania than A E. Sisson."

For Sale Cheap.

One good heating stove; wood burner; nearly new. Enquire at Free Methodist parsonage. 39-2t.

Boss Hockley has espoused Tom Watson's Socialistic "idees" and comes out in this week's Independent a blatant advocate of all the crazy isms advocated by Emma Goldman, Lucy Parsons and Billy Bryan.

Marked Improvement.

The Emporium Machine Company are making some substantial improvements at their works, a new brick fire room being among the improvements.

A Handsome Home.

Frank Shives' handsome new residence is almost ready for occupancy. The interior furnishings are very elaborate—Mr. Shives not sparing expense to make his home equal to any in the county.

Quarterly Meeting.

At the Free Methodist Church, Nov. 25th-27th. Order of services Friday and Saturday at 7:30 p. m., Sunday at 9:30 a. m., and 7 p. m. Rev. D. B. Tobey, of Franklin, Pa., in charge.

R. A. ROBERTSON.

Important Suit.

E. V. Dunlevie, accompanied by a large number of witnesses, went to Buffalo on Tuesday to testify in his suit against J. R. Droney and the Warren Packard Co., claiming damages for logs sold to other parties after contracting with said Dunlevie for sale of same.

Don't Be a Knocker.

The American Printer gives this bit of advice to persons who are full of bile:

If your neighbor is prosperous, let him prosper. Don't grunt, growl, or grumble. Say a good word for him and let it go at that. Don't be a knocker Your turn will come. No man is the whole show. If you see the town is moving along nicely, feel good about it. Help things along. Shove a little. Push. Try and get some of the benefit yourself. Don't stand around like a chilly old cadaver. Don't waste your time feeling sore because some fellow has a little more sand and sense than you have. Do a little hustling yourself. Don't be a knocker.

If you can say a good word, say it like a prince. If you are full of bile and disposed to say something mean, keep your mouth shut. Don't be a knocker. No man ever made a dollar knocking. No man ever got rich or happy minding everybody's business but his own. No man ever helped himself up permanently by knocking his neighbor down. Give up a kind word. Give it liberally. It won't cost you a cent and you may want one yourself some day. You may have thousands to-day and next year be without the price of a shave. So don't be a knocker. You can't afford it. It won't pay. There's nothing in it. If you want to throw something at somebody, throw cologne. Or roses. Don't throw brick-bats. Or mud Don't be a knocker. If you must kick, go around behind the barn and take a good kick at yourself. For if you feel that way, you're the man that needs kicking. But, whatever you do, don't be a knocker.

If there is a chance to boom business, boom it. Don't be a knocker. Don't pull a long face. Hope a bit. Get a smile on you. Hold up your head. Get a hold with both hands. Then pull. Bury your hatchet. Drop your tomahawk. Hide your little hammer. When a stranger drops in tell him this is the greatest town on earth. It is. Don't get mulish. Don't roast. Be jolly. Get popular. It's dead easy. Help yourself along. Push your friend with you. Soon you'll have a whole procession. Be a good fellow.

No man ever got rich trying to make people believe that he was the only good man on earth. You can't climb the ladder of fame by stepping on other people's corns. They're their corns; not yours Then they're tender. Keep off the corns.

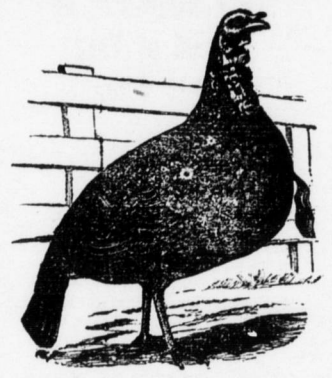
All men are not alike. Once in a while you may find one who is very much alike. But some are different. You're not the only shirt in the wash. If you don't like their style let 'em alone. Don't knock. You'll get used to it. There's no end of fun in minding your own business. And it makes other people like you better. Better have others get stuck on you than get stuck on yourself. Nobody gets stuck on a knocker. Don't be one. Be good.

Pleasing Entertainment.

Miss Estella Holahan well known throughout Clinton County for her histronic ability will present in the Emporium Opera House on the evening of Nov. 23rd a production capable of pleasing peopl e of culture and intelligence. She will be ably assisted by Miss Julia Schwartz, of Renovo, a musician who has been before the public for a number of years.

Admission fees will be as follows, parquet fifty cents, reserved seats thirty-five, admission twenty-five, gallery fifteen. Doors open at eight, curtain raised at eight-thirty.

TURKEYS FOR WIDOWS.



All widows residing within the limits of Emporium Borough are to be remembered with a turkey for Thanksgiving dinner. The donor desires that all applicants send their requests to the PRESS not later than Monday noon next. The turkeys will be delivered on Tuesday next. Every widow, rich or poor, is treated alike. Please be prompt.

HUNTERS SHOULD HEED THE FOLLOWING GAME LAWS.

We may expect to hear of some wonderful feats coming in from the mountain such as would fill a big book with matter calculated to raise the hair of the weak and swell the breasts of the brave. There will be heroes to burn at the close of the season, doubtless. But, to start with the hunting will be of the milder sort. Of course the bear season is always on but not until the deer can be killed does the onslaught on bruin start in real earnest. Below are dates when game may be killed in Pennsylvania under the state law:

Wild turkeys, October 15 to December 15.

Quail and partridges, October 15 to December 15.

Pheasants, ruff grouse and prairie chicken, October 15 to December 15.

Rail and reed bird, September 1 to November 30.

Plover, July 15 to January 1.

Geese and ducks, September 1 to May 1.

No more than 10 pheasants or ruff grouse, 2 wild turkeys, 10 woodcock or 5 quail must be killed by one person in one day and no more than two deer in one year. Killing, wounding or taking any game birds or animals with trap, net, snare, bird line, poison or drugs is prohibited. The use of ferrets in hunting game is prohibited. Deer must not be hunted with dogs or in the waters of any stream or pond, under penalty of $100 for each offense. Sunday hunting is prohibited.

Thanks, Friends.

I wish to sincerely thank my friends throughout the county who so loyally stood by me during the late campaign and to assure them of my hearty appreciation. "They" didn't beat me very badly any way, and would not have won at all if no mistakes had been made in the ballot.

E. O. BARDWELL.

Emporium, Pa., Nov. 14th, 1904.

The Emporium Elopers.

"Bud" Steele and Mrs. L. E. Specht, who eloped from Emporium one day last week, were arrested at a Harrisburg hotel on Saturday morning at one o'clock, the deserted husband and father of the truant wife confronting them. After the officer took them in charge, the husband secured $200 of the $500 taken, when he told them to go their way. The above facts are given us by the husband, who always provided a good home and appeared to be perfectly happy. The "man in the case" is now in Emporium.

DEATH'S DOINGS.

JACKSON.

John Jackson, aged 82, died at Coudersport last Sunday, his remains being brought to Emporium on Monday and placed in Emmanuel Church Chapel. Services were conducted on Tuesday by Mr. Josiah Howard, in the absence of Rector Robertson. Mr. Jackson had long been one of our most respected citizens and industrious farmers, residing on Portage. Some years ago he met with an accident, injuring his head, that made him a great charge. In order that he might have proper care he was taken to Potter Home. A few days before his death while walking over the floor he fell, receiving injuries from which he died. His wife died about one year ago.

Good Thanksgiving.

A single gentle rain makes the grass many shades greener. So our prospects brighten on the influx of better thoughts. We should be blessed if we lived in the present always and took advantage of every accident that befell us, like the grass which confesses the influence of the slightest dew that falls on it, and did not spend our time atoning for neglect of past opportunities, which we call doing our duty.—Thoreau.

Filial Obedience.

A 60-year-old son who asked his mother's permission to marry is the proud distinction of western North Carolina. This splendid example of filial obedience and devotion is J. M. Thrash, of Davidson River, who has just been married to Miss Molly Maxwell, of Brevard. The aged mother, 91 years old recently, the day of the wedding, had a birthday gift in this request of her son. —Columbia State.

For Comfort of Wives.

Some people will do nothing unless they have Bible authority for it. Men will not wipe dishes, because they claim it is woman's work. Let them turn to their Bible; to 2 Kings 21:13: "I will wipe Jerusalem as a man wipeth a dish, wiping it and turning it upside down." Women, cut this out, and show it to the men when they refuse to wipe the dishes.—Abilene (Kan.) Reflector.

Jap War Facilities.

Marshal Oyama, as he sat among his staff, smoking cigarettes and watching the battle of Liaoyang, was in constant communication by field telegraph and other wires with the fourth army, under Gen. Nodzu, and the first army, under Gen. Kuroki, and he could talk over the wire to the besiegers at Port Arthur and to the government in Tokio.

Call in Airships.

Paying visits by airship is the latest fashionable novelty in Paris, says the London Globe. There have been several instances of it recently. Three men left Paris by airship for a visit to the country house of Count Coutades. The wind was favorable and the distance of about 23 miles was covered in 45 minutes.

Corn Muffins.

Cream one-half cupful of soft butter and one-half cupful of sugar, add two beaten eggs, one cupful of sweet milk, 1½ cupfuls of flour, one-half cupful of Indian meal and three teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Drop in muffin tins and bake for 30 minutes in a moderate oven. —Household.

Japanese Mourning.

He who walks through life with an even temper and a gentle patience—patient with himself, patient with others, patient with difficulties and crosses—he has an every-day greatness beyond that which is won in battle or chanted in cathedrals.—Orville Dewey.

The Saving Light.

We boast our light; but, if we look not wisely on the sun itself, it smites us into darkness. The light which we have gained was given us, not to be ever staring on, but by it to discover onward things, now remote from all knowledge. —Milton.

Gay Monarch.

Flirting in church was one of the many weaknesses of Charles II. It is recorded that he was given to playing "peep" with Lady Castlemain through the curtains which divided the royal box from the ladies' pew.—London Graphic.

Honolulu Frogs.

The steamship Argyl brought from Honolulu to San Francisco the other day the first shipment of island frogs—100 dozen. The demand of San Francisco gourmets for frogs' legs has exhausted the local supply.

To Keep Cake Fresh.

Fruit cake is kept moist by placing it in an air-tight tin with a few good juicy apples. The apples should be exchanged for fresh ones as soon as there is any evidence of decay.—Boston Budget.

Daily Thought.

Aspire to simple living; that means aspire to fulfill the highest human destiny. All of men's agitations for greater justice have been also movements for a simple life.—Charles Wagner.

The Simplon Tunnel.

In boring the Simplon tunnel, now almost completed, 1,530,000 dynamite blasts have been made. Dynamite to the amount of 165,900 pounds was used.

NATIONAL ELECTION

Results of the Battle of the Ballots Shows Roosevelt and Fairbanks to be Elected by Very Large Vote.

New York, Nov. 10.—With the election returns still incomplete, the plurality of President Roosevelt in the nation, according to all indications, will exceed 1,500,000—the greatest plurality ever given an American candidate. The nearest approach to this vote was in 1896, when McKinley received a plurality approximating 850,000, and in 1872, when Grant received 762,991 plurality.

The "solid south" was broken by the probable defection of Missouri—this section of the country usually having 13 states in the democratic column. The figures now show but 12 states with 133 votes for Judge Parker. President Roosevelt carried all the northern states—swept them in fact—and has 343 electoral votes.

The sentiment which swept the republican candidates into office will be reflected in the next house of representatives. The republicans have elected 233 representatives and the democrats 141, the 12 remaining districts yet to be heard from being now equally divided between the two parties. The republican majority in the next house will therefore be at least 92.

PRESIDENT ROOSEVELT.

COLORADO.

Denver, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's plurality in Colorado has been increased by later returns and may run above 15,000.

Denver, Nov. 11.—Gov. James H. Peabody, republican, himself concedes his defeat. Alva Adams' majority over Peabody in the city and county of Denver is 5,071 and in the entire state about 10,500. Republicans still claim a majority for Peabody in the state outside Denver, but this is not borne out by the returns, which are still incomplete.

"On the face of the returns Adams is elected," said Republican State Chairman Fairley, "but the official count or a contest may change it to Peabody."

At a meeting of the republican candidates yesterday it was decided to begin immediately a contest for the places of all the democrats elected in Colorado on the face of the returns.

Both sides are claiming the legislature and the result will be in doubt until the official count is made in Denver and Pueblo.

WISCONSIN.

Milwaukee, Nov. 10.—The result of the election in Wisconsin shows that Roosevelt ran ahead of every ticket and carried the state by a plurality estimated at between 60,000 and 75,000; that Gov. La Follette is re-elected by a plurality of about 50,000, and that the congressional complexion remains unchanged from two years ago. The legislature which is to elect a United States senator to succeed Joseph V. Quarles is largely republican.

One of the surprises in the election was the big increase in the vote of the social democratic party. Four years ago that party polled 4,158 votes in Milwaukee county, two years ago 10,704, and in this election 18,129. The social democrats elected four assemblymen and one senator to the legislature. In the legislature Chairman Connor, of the La Follette state central committee, claims there will be 80 members pledged to carry out the measures advocated by Gov. La Follette.

NEW YORK.

New York, Nov. 10.—The latest returns from New York state only tend to confirm the earlier statements of the result, showing that Mr. Roosevelt's plurality is 174,691, while Mr. Higgins' majority for governor is 76,822. Not only was there an almost phenomenal republican victory up the state, but in the city of New York the democratic plurality was largely reduced. The legislature is republican by an increased majority in both branches. Unofficial figures indicate that they have elected 102 of the 150 members of the assembly and that they will have 35 of the 50 state senators.

PENNSYLVANIA.

Philadelphia, Nov. 11.—Complete but unofficial figures received from every county in the state with the exception of Allegheny, in which Pittsburg is situated, but from where a close estimate has been obtained, show that President Roosevelt's plurality in Pennsylvania has reached 494,525, probably the largest plurality ever given a presidential candidate by any state in the political history of the country. President Roosevelt's total vote, according to figures at hand, is 830,125 and Judge Parker's 335,600. McKinley's total vote in 1900 was 712,665 and Bryan's 424,232.

RHODE ISLAND.

Providence, Nov. 10.—It was not until yesterday that a republican victory for governor was assured. Utter, rep., defeated Garvin, dem., by 594 plurality. Roosevelt carried the state by about 16,000. The republicans also elected the two congressmen, their state ticket and obtained an increased majority in the legislature, which insures the re-election of United States Senator Aldrich.

OHIO.

Columbus, O., Nov. 11.—Chairman Dick says that returns show Ohio went for Roosevelt by a plurality of 245,732. The republicans elected 20 out of 21 congressmen and carry 71 out of 88 counties.

Columbus, O., Nov. 12.—Revised unofficial returns from every county in Ohio indicate that Roosevelt's majority in Ohio will be 250,937. The figures of the various counties show an unprecedented falling away of the democratic vote, and the indications are that the total vote of that party will be little if any in excess of 300,000. The total vote will be about 1,000,000, a reduction of 49,000 from the last presidential election.

MINNESOTA.

St. Paul, Nov. 10.—When all the returns shall have been received, it is claimed by republicans that Roosevelt's majority will run close to 125,000, if not more. An estimate made from incomplete returns indicates 109,000 majority. The republicans elected the entire nine congressmen and a state legislature which is strongly republican on a joint ballot.

John A. Johnson, democrat, and Ray W. Jones, republican, were elected governor and lieutenant governor respectively. There is no doubt as to Johnson's election and the only matter of speculation is the size of his majority over Robert C. Dunn, republican.

WASHINGTON.

Seattle, Nov. 10.—Complete returns from one-fourth of all the precincts in the state of Washington and incomplete returns from most of the others show that the Roosevelt electors have carried this state by over 30,000 votes.

Albert E. Mead (rep.) is elected governor over George Turner (dem.) by between 5,000 and 7,000 votes. Every other candidate on the republican state ticket is elected by from 3,000 to 20,000 except Humphrey, Jones and Cushman, for congress, whose majorities will be higher. The next legislature will be very strongly republican.

WEST VIRGINIA.

Parkersburg, Nov. 11.—The official returns for West Virginia are not yet in, but from the returns received Roosevelt's plurality in the state is placed at from 25,000 to 30,000. The republican state committee claims the election of W. M. O. Dawson, republican, for governor, by a plurality of over 9,000. The democratic state committee concedes his election by about 5,000.

Parkersburg, W. Va., Nov. 12.—The democrats have conceded everything to the republicans in West Virginia, including the five congressmen and the legislature.

CALIFORNIA.

San Francisco, Nov. 10.—Roosevelt's plurality in this state will exceed 100,000. In this city alone it is 21,833 and in the 1,627 interior precincts, so far as heard from, it amounts to 83,300, making a total of 105,141. The full delegation of eight congressmen will be republican and an overwhelming republican majority in the legislature insures the election of a republican successor to Senator Bard.

SENATOR FAIRBANKS.

NEBRASKA.

Omaha, Nov. 11.—Enough returns have come in to leave little doubt that Gov. Mickey is re-elected by from 5,000 to 7,000 plurality. Complete returns from about 50 counties are available, which show a net gain for Mickey of nearly 1,500. This warrants a conservative estimate of 7,500 plurality for the governor, who ran considerably behind the rest of the republican state ticket. Pluralities on the rest of the ticket are expected to reach about 15,000. Roosevelt carried the state by about 75,000.

UTAH.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 10.—About one-third of the voting precincts of the state give Roosevelt 27,381, Parker 15,992, Debs 1,509. Republican State Chairman Spry yesterday claimed the election of the entire state ticket, an almost entire republican legislature and the election of the Salt Lake county ticket. The latter claim is disputed by both democrats and American party men.

NEW JERSEY.

Trenton, Nov. 10.—Herbert Potts, secretary of the republican state committee, says that the revised figures so far received indicate that President Roosevelt's plurality in New Jersey is 70,000 and that Edward C. Stokes, the republican candidate for governor, will have a plurality of at least 50,000. The New Jersey delegation in congress will stand nine republicans to one democrat.

DELAWARE.

Wilmington, Nov 10.—The republicans made a clean sweep in this state. Roosevelt's plurality will be over 4,000, while Lea, the republican compromise candidate for governor, will have a plurality of nearly 3,500.

The republicans elected their congressman and will have a majority on joint ballot in the legislature of 16. This will probably mean the election of Edward Addicks as United States senator.

MISSOURI.

Kansas City, Nov. 12.—Returns from all counties in the state, and most of these official, give Folk, dem., for governor, 30,566 plurality and Roosevelt 28,271 plurality.

Missouri's congressional delegation will stand eight democrats and eight republicans, a gain of seven for the latter. This much is conceded by the democratic leaders. A republican majority on joint ballot in the general assembly is conceded by the democrats, who have lost control of the legislative body for the first time in 36 years. This will insure the election of a republican successor to United States Senator Cockrell.

MARYLAND.

Baltimore, Nov. 12.—That an official count of the ballots cast for the presidential electors at last Tuesday's election in Maryland will be required before definite knowledge of the result can be assured was demonstrated last night by the semi-official count in Baltimore city and in 20 of the 23 counties of the state. The returns received thus far indicate that seven democratic and one republican electors were chosen. The congressional situation remains unchanged—three democratic and three republican congressmen being elected.

ILLINOIS.

Chicago, Nov. 10.—The returns from the state outside Chicago have come in slowly, but those that have been received contain little satisfaction for the democrats, as they steadily increase the plurality for President Roosevelt. He has carried the state by over 290,000. The plurality of Deneen for governor is placed at 274,000.

Roosevelt carried the city of Chicago by 107,299 and the county of Cook outside the city by 16,182, making his total plurality in Cook county 123,411.

The republicans have made heavy gains in the legislature and will have a majority of 60 on joint ballot.

INDIANA.

Indianapolis, Nov. 10.—The latest returns from over the state have not changed materially the earlier estimates of the plurality for the republican national ticket. Republican State Chairman James P. Goodrich is persistent in his assertion that 75,000 plurality for Roosevelt is a conservative estimate. Returns from the legislative districts indicate that the republicans will have a majority of 100 in the legislature which will this year elect two United States senators.

CONNECTICUT.

New Haven, Nov. 10.—The republican pluralities in Connecticut for the national and state tickets exceed anything ever before experienced in the state. Revised returns from every city and town give Roosevelt a plurality of 38,197, while four years ago McKinley defeated Bryan at the high water mark of 28,558. The four re-elected republican congressmen each had pluralities which the most confident never expected to see. The legislature is overwhelmingly republican.

NEW HAMPSHIRE.

Concord, Nov. 10.—New Hampshire polled one of the largest votes in its history, the result being a decided republican victory for both national and state tickets. Roosevelt carried the state against Parker by about 20,000 plurality, while John McLane, rep., defeated Henry F. Hollis, dem., for governor by about 15,000. The republicans will have a majority of about 100 in the legislature.

MASSACHUSETTS.

Boston, Nov. 10.—Complete returns from this state show that the republican presidential electors received a plurality of 86,279 in a total vote of 422,825 cast by the republican and democratic parties. Douglas, dem., has 35,710 plurality over Bates, rep., for governor.

VERMONT.

White River Junction, Nov. 10.—Complete returns from Vermont: Parker 9,881, Roosevelt 40,691; Roosevelt's plurality 30,810. Same in 1900 gave Bryan 12,849, McKinley 42,569; McKinley's plurality 29,720.

MICHIGAN.

Detroit, Nov. 9.—Michigan was the scene of a veritable republican landslide. Roosevelt and Fairbanks carried the state by an unprecedented majority, variously estimated at from 100,000 to 150,000. Fred M. Warner and the republican state ticket are elected; at least 11 of the 12 congressmen from Michigan are republican and the legislature is overwhelmingly republican, insuring the re-election of United States Senator J. C. Burrows.

Returns are very slow in coming in from the state and at midnight definite figures were impossible to give.

MAINE.

Portland, Nov. 9.—The elimination from yesterday's election of a state contest in Maine detracted from the interest. The result was a victory for Roosevelt and Fairbanks:. Returns from 350 out of 519 cities, towns and plantations give Roosevelt 57,946 and Parker 24,730. The same places in 1900 gave McKinley 58,355 and Bryan 33,242. On this basis the republican plurality in Maine is estimated at 37,000.

Montana, Idaho, Kansas, Wyoming, South Dakota and Nevada are carried by Roosevelt.

ELECTRICITY AS AN ETHER.

Paris Physician Declares He Has Found an Effective and Pleasant Anaesthetic.

Dr. S Ledue, of the Academy of Medicine in Paris, is confident that he has discovered in electricity a substitute for the great anaesthetic, chloroform and ether.

Dr. Ledue began his experiments on dogs, rabbits and pigeons. He employed a current of from 10 to 30 volts, which he interrupted from 100 to 200 times a second. He sent this current through the brain of the animal or bird on which he was experimenting by applying one electrode on the top of the head and the other at the posterior base of the skull. In no case did more than ten minutes elapse before the subject was completely anaesthetized. They recovered immediately when the current ceased, and not one showed an evil effect.

So confident was Dr. Ledue that this was a harmless and sure method to produce senselessness to pain that he submitted himself to the experience. An assistant placed one electrode on the doctor's forehead and the other over his spine in the lumbar region, so that the mild but quickly interrupted current was sent through his cerebrum, cerebellum and spinal cord.

In less than ten minutes Dr. Ledue was perfectly anaesthetized; he did not feel the prick of needles nor the burn of a red hot iron; his pupil did not respond to irritation. When the current was shut off he recovered consciousness instantly, and so far from experiencing bad effects, he declared he felt as though he had taken a tonic.

AGED MAN AS PLOW-HORSE.

Conviction of Mississippi Desperadoes Brings to Light Their Brutal Usage of Old Uncle.

The arrest and conviction of Will and Julius Sullivan, the leaders of the Sullivan's Hollow band of desperadoes, has brought to light one of the most peculiar crimes which ever went on the records of Mississippi courts.

The crime, which was committed some time ago, was that of treating a human being like a horse. Will Sullivan and his brother Julius were the guilty parties, and the victim was Lodi Sullivan, their uncle. Will and Julius went to their uncle's home in Covington county one morning and called him to the gate. The old man came to greet his nephews, but instead of being received cordially, he was seized and taken to the stable. There he was harnessed to a plow and the two boys forced him to drag the implement through the fields.

At night the uncle was taken to the stable, placed in a stall, and given six ears of corn and a bundle of fodder. This method of torture was kept up two days. When he was discovered and rescued from the hands of his nephews he was almost dead.

Judge Enochs, of Raleigh district, who tried the Sullivan boys for their crime in Covington county, is authority for the truth of the unusual story. Judge Enochs has since tried the Sullivan boys for other crimes. Will Sullivan was given a life sentence in the pen for killing one of his kinsmen, and Julius was sent to prison for two years for whitecapping.

HAD MARVELOUS DIGESTION.

English Woman Who Swallowed Dominoes, Stones, Iron Screws and Other Solids Passes Away.

A British celebrity, and a wonderful woman in more ways than one, has passed away at Bristol, England—Mrs. Williams, an old news seller.

She was gifted with a marvelous memory, and still more marvelous digestion. Chapters of Scripture and all Watts' and Wesley's hymns she knew by heart. So great had the fascination for swallowing solids become with her that on one occasion she seized a box of dominoes and swallowed no fewer than 28 intact. Upon a later occasion she swallowed one and one-half pounds of large gravel stones, and again, in 1870, 13 large iron screws, but she completely recovered.

Needless to say, she was the object of wonder, if not consternation, to Bristol doctors, and her digestive organs remained unimpaired to the last.

Mrs. Mary E. Meserve, of Salisbury, Mass., was cured of Anæmia, a disease in which there is an actual deficiency of the blood, by the use of

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People

She says: "The first symptom was an unusual paleness. Later the blood seemed to have all left my body. I had shortness of breath and fluttering of the heart; was depressed, morose and peevish. I suffered for two years. Physicians did me little good but I am now a well woman because I took twelve boxes of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills."

These pills really make new blood and have cured obstinate cases of rheumatism, scrofula and erysipelas. They are especially useful to growing girls.

A TRAGEDY AT AUBURN, CAL.

A MAN, HIS WIFE AND TWO CHILDREN MURDERED.

The Unknown Assassin Sets Fire to the Home of the Murdered Family in Order to Cover His Crime.

Auburn, Cal., Nov. 12.—Julius Weber, his wife, their 19-year-old daughter Bertha and their son Paul, aged 14 years, were murdered Thursday night by an unknow assassin, who set fire to the home in an effort to cover his crime. Before the fire had made any great headway the bodies of the murdered woman and her two children were rescued from the burning house.

An examination of the bodies showed that Mrs. Weber and the children had been murdered before the fire had been started. Mrs. Weber and her daughter had been killed by pistol wounds. On the boy's head were several deep cuts. He had also been shot.

All efforts to reach Julius Weber, the father who was thought to be in the burning house, were abandoned until Friday, when a search was made in the burning timbers and his body was found in the bath room of the dwelling. He had been shot down before being left to be consumed by the flames.

The body of Mr. Weber was so badly burned that it has been impossible to ascertain how often he was shot. It has been ascertained beyond a doubt that the women were killed in one room and their clothing set on fire, and that they were then dragged into the apartment where their bodies were discovered.

One very peculiar circumstance of the tragedy is that while the bodies of the mother and daughter were burned to some extent, the apartment in which they were lying was not on fire when the firemen broke in, which showed that they had been killed in some other portion of the house, partially burned and then dragged into the room where they were found.

The physicians are holding an autopsy over the badly charred remains of Julius Weber. Coroner Shepard, Sheriff Kean and District Attorney Robinson are making a thorough investigation of the tragedy.

The robbery theory is about exploded. Adolph Weber, the son, aged 20, who is the only member of the family alive, talks but little, but to the coroner and sheriff he said he did not think the motive was either robbery or revenge. When asked if he had a theory he said he had, but would not give it. He did say, reluctantly, that his father had a violent temper.

REVIEW OF TRADE.

Demand for All Products Is Broadening, Steadily and Rapidly.

New York, Nov. 12.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade says:

All measures of trade indicated the customary loss due to holiday interruption, but subsequently much of the deficit was regained, numerous evidences of increasing confidence being seen in the disposition to place orders for distant shipment. Increased consumption of pig iron is also significant and in other leading branches of manufacture there is a steadily diminishing percentage of idle machinery. Woolen mills are busy, despite the fact that it is between seasons, and the raw wool market is very strong.

Developments in the leading manufacturing industry are about equal to the most sanguine expectations. Demand is broadening in a wholesome manner, large contracts calling for a heavy tonnage of plates, wire, pipe and sheets. Orders for structural shapes are heavier than at any previous time this year, and sales of bars are made at $2 above the list prices.

A RISING STOCK MARKET.

It Caused the Failure of a Brokerage Firm with 50 Branch Offices.

Boston, Nov. 12.—The pronounced rise in the stock market was responsible yesterday for the suspension of the Federal Stock and Grain Co., of this city, one of the largest concerns of the kind in the country. The company had four offices in Boston and 50 or more in other cities. Treasurer D. E. Murray states that the concern has lost $1,000,000 in the last six months, and adds that the claims against it do not exceed $150,000.

While most of the branch offices are in New England, the concern had agencies in Montreal, Denver and several other cities.

All branches were closed shortly after the announcement of the suspension, and in several places attachments have been filed against funds standing in banks to the credit of the concern. The company is said to have cleared $2,000,000 last year. Of late, however, steady losses have been sustained.

A Famous Detective Dies.

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—George S. Dice, chief office inspector of the St. Louis district, died last night at his home here, aged 56 years. He had been connected with the postoffice department for 22 years. He was once chief inspector of the New Orleans district and the principal prosecuting witness in the famous Louisiana lottery trial.

An Attempt to Wreck a Train.

Philadelphia, Nov. 12.—An attempt was made last night to wreck the northbound Cape May express train on the West Jersey & Seashore railroad near Woodbury, N. J. A railroad tie was stood up on one end in the middle of the tracks and was braced so that it could not fall. The train was running at such high speed that the tie was hurled from the track without any damage being done the train. The trainmen saw a man disappear in the darkness just as the train crashed into the obstruction. A pay train had preceded the express.

A DOUBLE MURDER.

Brother of a Constable Who was Killed by a Policeman Murdered a Sheriff and Another Citizen.

Huntington, W. Va., Nov. 11.—Fayette county is excited as never before over a double murder which occurred Thursday following the murder of Constable W. A. Jackson by Policeman Will Elliott, of Montgomery.

Wednesday night in a quarrel between the two officers Jackson was shot and killed. Harvey Jackson, a brother of W. A. Jackson, and two other brothers armed themselves and started out to "clean up" the entire police force of the town, which is a small hamlet near Fayette.

A message was sent to Sheriff Daniels to come to Montgomery at once, as bloodshed was certain. Daniels reached Montgomery yesterday morning. Just as he stepped from the train he saw Harvey Jackson lounging around the station. Without drawing his revolver the sheriff walked over to Jackson and told him to leave the town under penalty of being arrested. Jackson, without a word, fired twice at the sheriff, each bullet taking effect. The sheriff dropped to the ground, dying instantly.

John Rolf, a prominent citizen of the town, was standing nearby. Throwing up his hands he advanced toward Jackson to remonstrate with him. Jackson turned and shot Rolf dead. Then reloading his revolver and pulling another from his pocket he brandished them in the air and defied any one in the town to take him. The other Jackson boys came into town and met their brother immediately after the shooting.

For half an hour the three men paraded the streets firing revolvers and defying the town. The people were in a panic and crawled into the cellars. In the meantime Detective Harrison Ash, who lives near Montgomery, was telephoned for. When he was seen coming down the road from Montgomery by the Jacksons they started for the mountain nearby and escaped in the woods.

A SERIES OF FIRES.

Three Lives Were Lost and 20 People Injured in New York City.

New York, Nov. 11.—Three persons lost their lives, 20 were injured, nearly half a hundred were overcome by smoke and an equal number are temporarily homeless as a result of a series of fires in various parts of the city yesterday. In nearly every case the fires were in tenement houses occupied by a large number of families and at least two of them are thought to have been started by incendiaries.

That no more lives were lost undoubtedly was due to the fact that the flames were discovered in every instance before they had made great headway, and the excellent use made of life saving appliances by the firemen. Life nets, scaling ladders and other apparatus enabled the firemen to save many persons whose escape had been cut off by flames and choking smoke.

Nearly all the fires started in the lower parts of the buildings and although in no case did the money loss exceed a few thousand dollars, the dense clouds of smoke which swept up through halls and elevator shafts drove the panic-stricken tenants to roofs and fire escapes. Many were overcome before reaching the outer air, but with the exception of three all were found by firemen and carried out in safety.

A false alarm of fire also contributed to the day's list of injured.

The most serious fire of the day was that in an upper East Side apartment house in which three lives were lost, several persons were injured and many thrilling rescues were made.

TO DEFEND OUR COASTS.

The Ordnance Board Says that 600 Additional Big Guns are Necessary.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The annual report of the board of ordnance and fortifications shows that an unusual amount of experimental work has been performed by the board during the past year. Many devices of novel design have been tested, but no novelty of real merit has been developed. One of the most important phases of the experimental work was the determination of the relative perforating qualities of capped and uncapped shells when fired at armor plate at considerable angles. These experiments are being continued on a larger scale. Only seven 12-inch guns out of the total of 109 guns contracted for in 1891 remain to be completed and the last of these will be made by August of next year.

The board renews its recommendation of last year for the immediate procurement of medium calibre rapid fire guns for coast defense to the extent of 200 semi-automatic high velocity 6-pounder guns on pedestal mounts; 200 semi-automatic guns of a calibre large enough to fire shrapnel, mounted on field carriages, and 200 automatic machine guns, 30 calibre.

The New Jersey Is Launched.

Quincy, Mass., Nov. 11.—The battleship New Jersey, built for the United States government by the Fore River Shipbuilding Co., was successfully launched yesterday in the presence of a large number of guests, including Gov. Murphy, of New Jersey; Gov. Bates, of Massachusetts, and ex-Secretary of the Navy Long. The battleship was christened by Mrs. William B. Kinney, daughter of Gov. Murphy.

A Strike Is Averted.

New York, Nov. 11.—A strike which threatened to affect all the mills of the International Paper Co. in the east has been averted by an agreement which was reached between representatives of the paper workers and the company here yesterday. The trouble directly settled by this agreement was that at Berlin, N. H., where the company's employes were on strike, but many other mills were indirectly affected, inasmuch as decided action in sympathy with the Berlin strikers had been threatened in other quarters.

EDITORIAL MENTION.

Mr. Thomas Taggart, of Indiana, says there is no explaining a cyclone. He should read up on weather bureau literature.

Humpty Dumpty had a fall; couldn't keep his legs at all; Tommy Taggart and his band couldn't make Humpty Dumpty stand.

The voter "who scratches" is hereafter to be reckoned with, at least Massachusets, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Missouri, Colorado and Montana.

Gov. Odell of New York recently said: "I am looking for rest and simply want to beeome a private citizen." If these are honest sentiments he has no intention of ousting Senator Chauncey M. Depew.

Most of the labor union city governments in Connecticut were turned down at the last election. The majority against the stoker mayor, Mulvihill, of Bridgeport, was some 4,000. He petered out as a reformer and became a very narrow partisan.

"Twe years from now," say the Republicans of North Carolina, "we will take our state out of the 'solid South' column." At the last election they reduced the Democratic majority some 35,000. If this operation is repeated the Old North State will again come into the Union.

Under Governor G. W. Higgins, of New York, the work of improving the Erie, Oswego and Champlain canals, will begin at a cost of $101,000,000. This great enterprise will give employment to thousands of men, besides providing for the future vast transporation business of the Empire state.

Democratic Congressman Van-Duzer came back to Congress from Nevada. How he escaped the landslide is a mystery. There are those who think he owns a wireless forcaster and a cyclone cellar. Possibly the fact that he never makes a speech in the House without filling it with hot air about Nevada, may have warmed the hearts of his constituents.

The Stage Mirror.

Whenever a looking glass appears in a scene in a play above a fireplace, in a sideboard or a cabinet one is almost sure to hear somebody ask his or her neighbor why the glass has been smeared with whiting or soap or something that dulls its surface completely. All sorts of reasons are hazarded or suggested. Sometimes it is stated that it is done for luck, at others that they did not intend to leave it dirty. The real explanation is, however, a simple one. The glass is dirtied to prevent the illusion of the scene being destroyed, as it certainly would be if the audience saw in it the reflection of themselves or, worse still, the reflection of the people in the wings carrying on the business of the stage.—Chicago Tribune.

Onions For Diphtheria.

In cases of diphtheria onions in the form of a poultice and a sirup are said to have an almost magical effect. The poultice in this case is made of the raw onion pounded to a pulp and bandaged around the throat well up to the ears, changing as often as the mass becomes dry. A poultice of the same on the sole of each foot reduces the fever. The mucilaginous properties of onion juice make it specially soothing to the inflamed mucous membrane and therefore acceptable in case of whooping cough, croup or diphtheria. An excellent way to make the sirup is to cut the onion into slices, sprinkle plentifully with sugar and press between hot plates and a heavy weight until all the juice is extracted.

Mirror, Crystal and Sword.

The three symbols of the imperial house of Japan are the mirror, the crystal and the sword, and they are carried in front of the emperor on all state occasions. Each has its significance. "Look at the mirror and reflect thyself," or, in other words, "Know thyself," is the message of the mirror. "Be pure and shine" is the crystal's injunction, while the sword is a reminder to "Be sharp."

A Continual Strain.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and distresses them both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and dispondency. They cannot, as a rule, get ride of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-destroying effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." PLATT GIVES BUCKWHEAT BREAKFAST.

OWEGO, N. Y., NOV. 15.—Owego never had seen so many men who are prominent in public life as were assembled here to-day in response to the invitations of Senator Platt to his buckwheat breakfast. Senator Depew, Congressmen, State Senators and Assemblymen, some accompanied by their wives, were present at the Ah-Wa-Ga House, Senator Platt's home when in Owego.

Neither Governor Odell nor Governor-elect Higgins attended, the latter being ill.

Senator Depew was one of the after breakfast speakers. In the course of a felicitous address he said that Senator Platt's twenty years of leadership will stand in political history as unequalled in its absence of factional strife within the party and the glorious victories of the party.

Referring to the recent election, Senator Depew asked:

"What elected Roosevelt?"

"The answer is as clear as revelation," he went on, "Roosevelt elected Roosevelt. No personality in American public life ever stood out so distinct in individual characteristics, in emphasis of traits peculiarly his own, and in outspoken confidence with the whole people like President Roosevelt. The qualities which his enemies characatured or anathematized were the ones which endeared him to his countrymen. He holds his commission freer from pledges or obligations, except to the people who elected him, than any of his predecessors. This election teaches the thoughtfulness and importance of the people. It is no accident which gives these phenomenal majorities to Roosevelt It is no accident which elects Democratic Governors in Minnesota and Massachusetts by almost the same majority as Roesevelt received. It is an admonition and a warning to the party in power that the new Governor of Massachusetts in a State which has been Republican so long will have an enormous patronage.

Now, my friends, what of the future? Upon the ruins of the disintegration of the Democratic party will arise an organization built up by able and resourceful agitators, whose appeal will be to discontent. It must be our task, that there shall be a minimum of discontent and a maximum of satisfaction."

Don't Gather Leaves.

During the fall many people make the mistake of taking the leaves from their lawns. Nature has intended that they should fall and remain on the ground through the winter months. By spring they become decayed and furnish one of the best fertilizers for the grass that it is possible to obtain. Ungathered leaves may make the lawn look forsaken, but the following spring the grass will come forward with vigor.

Editor Versus Lawyer.

A lawyer in a courtroom may call a man a liar, scoundrel, villain or thief, and no one makes a complaint when court has adjourned. If a newspaper prints such reflections on a man's character there is a libel suit or a dead editor. And this is owing to the fact that people believe what an editor says; what a lawyer says cuts no figure.—Routt County (Colo.) Courier.

A HERO.

We saw the colonel on parade,
A most imposing sight he made.

His swelling chest, his bearing proud,
His voice peremptory and loud
With awe inspired the gazing crowd.

You really should have heard him when
He shouted orders to his men.

Yes, when he roared those orders out
You should have seen them march about,
So prompt compliance with his shout.

Oh, very dignified was he—
As martial as a man can be.

So haughtily he held his head,
His gills became so very red,
So turkey-cocky was his tread.

We later saw him when he seemed
Far meeker than we could have dreamed

His step was soft, his voice subdued,
His ruddy cheek was chalky-hued,
With terror he seemed quite imbued.

In such a man as he 'twas queer,
But he was overcome with fear.

He born to threaten and command!
A rank poltroon with trembling hand,
And knees that hardly let him stand.

We marked his look of wild despair—
We heard his wife's voice on the stair.

TWO KISSES

By MARGARET VAN METRE

"MAMMA, look, there's Tom Patterson," said Marion Haddon.

"Why, so it is," answered her mother. "He must have come out from the city for a summer vacation. Well!" And she settled down in her chair with the ever present mending at her side, while she looked with slightly questioning glance at her daughter.

"Well," echoed Marion to herself. But she said nothing, and soon wandered into the yard, book in hand, to the hammock which swung idly out under the trees.

Marion Haddon and Tom Patterson had been playmates ever since, as one old neighbor used to express it, Marion was knee high to a grasshopper. They had played together, gone to school together, and through it all had been friends.

Then Tom had gone away to college, and after a year or two at an eastern university, had gone to New York city where he had been ever since employed in the office of a noted architect; for Tom was an expert draughtsman and as such had secured a fine position. Always a bright youth, he had settled down to his chosen business with a spirit of energy that showed plainly that he was serious in the choice of a profession; and with a persistence that had surprised even his closest friends, he had continued at the same work, in the same office, until now four years had passed since he had taken a vacation of any sort and since he had revisited the scenes of his boyhood trials and pleasures.

During these years, Tom had paid little attention to the girls. In his early days the people of Martinsburg thought he was rather in love with Marion Haddon; but he had stayed away so long, and Marion had been so happy and lively in the company of various other of the village youths, that it was decided by the wise ones of the town that there wasn't anything in it after all. But when it was rumored on this beautiful July day that Tom Patterson was in town, there were not a few who, like Marion's mother, thought questioningly of her and wondered.

Marion herself wondered, too. "Tom in town! I wonder how he looks. And how will he think I look? I wonder if he—" The pause was suggestive of some deep question, but Marion did not finish, even to herself, the thought that was in her mind. She sat for some time thinking. She thought of all the good times she and Tom used to have together. How she hated to have him go away! And he said he was sorry, too. Did he mean it? She wondered again. Her earliest memory of him recurred to her mind, such a provoking recollection that was, and always so vivid a one. Try as she would, she could never quite forget it.

She was a very little girl then, and unusually bashful at that. A crowd of little people were playing in Tom's yard one hot afternoon in summer. The game was "King William." Most of those in the game were older than Marion and evidently thought it would be fun to play a little trick on her. Tom was in the center. Around him the others circled, singing as they went:

"King William was King James' son,
Upon a royal race he run;
He wore a star upon his vest
That points the way to the governor's breast."

Round and round the little company circled, still singing, all alive to the fun of the occasion except Marion; she alone, shy and uneasy.

"Go to the east, go to the west,
Go choose the one that you love best;
If she's not here to take your part,
Go choose another with all your heart."

As these words were sung, Tom, as if by a hint from one of the older girls, pointed to Marion, who slowly, shrinkingly, took her place in the center at his side. Persistently the song went on to its inevitable end:

"Down on this carpet you must kneel
As sure as the grass grows in the field.
So kiss your bride, and kiss her sweet.
And now you may rise upon your feet."

When the last words were sung by the gleeful little crowd, Marion was seized by Tom and kissed—kissed there before them all! This was more than she could stand, and with tears of wounded pride filling her eyes, making her stumble as she went, she hurried home. That was an insignificant incident and evidently quite forgotten by all concerned, but in the mind of Marion it remained and rankled.

So Tom was home. Did she care? She wondered if she did, and was just going to admit that she believed she did—a little,—when the gate opened and up the long path, straight to where she swung in the big hammock under the trees, walked the very one of whom she was thinking, Tom Patterson. And in that moment she admitted to herself that she cared—a great deal.

She rose and smiling a welcome, came to meet him. "Why, Tom, how you've grown. You hardly look the same to me."

"But I am the same to you, Marion, if you would only believe it."

Tom's glance said more than his words. Marion blushed and seated herself in the hammock, while Tom flung himself with careless grace on the grass at her feet.

"Why should I believe it, Tom? You've been saying pleasant nothings to me ever since I was a little girl. Why should I believe you now any more than in those other days?" And Marion began to swing lightly to and fro, looking at Tom with a half-mocking smile, but thinking at the same time what a fine fellow he was and how glad she felt that he had come back, if it was but for a visit.

But Tom was speaking, and when she recovered her thought she discovered with a thrill, that he was answering her mocking question with serious deliberation. "The reason, Marion, why you should believe me now, is that this time I mean it. No, that's hardly what I mean. I've always meant it, but I never dared say anything very serious now that I have shown that I can earn enough to make a home, I have come to ask the only girl in the world if she will share it with me.

"Why, Marion, I've loved you ever since that day—of course you don't remember—a day when you were a little girl and I a year or two older. We were playing King William and I was 'it.' There was a far away look in his eyes, so Marion had a chance to steal a glance at him before he turned again toward her.

"It was your first game, and someone suggested you as a good one to choose. I didn't need to be told that, however, for I had you all picked out; I had chosen you the minute I got in the game. Of course they didn't know, so when I caught you and had that first kiss"—he paused significantly—"they thought it a great joke.

"I felt dreadfully sorry when you felt so bad, and cried; and I wouldn't play any more that day. But I said to myself then, and have said it many times since, that some time I was going to have another; though of course I wouldn't want it if it should affect you as that first one did." He looked for some sign from her, but Marion did not stir. All this time she had sat with face turned away, her eyes shining and her cheeks rosy.

At last Tom began to grow fearful of the prolonged silence and broke it with: "Now I have dared. I have come. Don't send me away, for I have always wanted you."

"Send you away? I wouldn't dare." Marion turned toward him a face all smiles, but eyes dimmed with tears. "I wouldn't dare because, well—because I've always loved you, too, Tom, at least since that day we played 'King William' and you gave me my first kiss."

And then Tom had his second, and another, and an—. But that's beyond our pale; we were to stop at the second. —National Magazine.

A JAP'S ODD DESCRIPTION.

Tells How a Cat Escaped the Jaws of a Ferocious Brindle Dog.

"It happen one day when you gone off for whole week. I work in kitchen at window. I see one white silk puss cat come creepy, creepy in the yard. I no see his collar, his neck so fluff, but I hear one little bell go tinkle, tinkle, tinkle. Pret soon a missy come round the corner all creepy, creepy, too, with chopbone in her hand, and she call so soft: 'Comee, puss-cat, puss-cat, puss-cat.' But puss-cat he no care for dead chop when he can catchy grasshoppers.

"Then quick before I think, whoop! scat! the dogs go scooty 'cross the grass, and puss-cat he all stick out and spit, and then he shin up tree like fury. And Bringle-Boy, he rush at missy all mad, and grab her skirts and stockings, and pull-tug, and growl and bite like he eat her all up."

"The beast!" exclaimed Barry. "What did you do?"

The little Japanese man drew himself up with pride till he almost reached his master's shoulder, says Eleanor A. Hallowell, in Lippincott's, "I grab big broom and rush out to save."

"What did she do?" Barry persisted, kicking angrily at the chair. "Did she scream bloody murder?"

The little man's pompous bravery seemed to suddenly wither away. "What she do? She just put back her head and laugh all teeth and cry out: 'Isn't he just too sweet for anything?' and silly like that, and as I lift up broom to club that dog's head, she threw him lamb chop quick, and he stop bitey her feet, and she sit down on grass and cry, cry, all whitey. And Brindle-Boy, when he finish that chop he come lick her hands so nicely, and missy she kind of tuck up her cry and run home. But white silk puss-cat he no come down out of that tree for two days, and bull-dogs they go round so sad and cough up white fluff fur all time."

"Did they eat her cat?" Barry inquired, as a matter of natural politeness. He hated cats.

The Japanese man resumed his fatuous smile. "They try hard," he acknowledged. "They bitey deep and often, but they do not hurt white silk puss-cat, he live far inside."

Easily Discouraged.

"Do you consider marriage a luxury or a necessity?" asked the sociologist.

"Neither," answered the man who had just secured his second divorce. "It's a crime."—Chicago Record-Herald.

ODD FACTS FOR FARM FOLK.

Tokay and Syrian Grapes Grown in Northern Idaho—All Grains Are Over Weight When Properly Grown by Irrigation—White Flax Seed—Corn Wheat in Place of Corn.

It is a big surprise to World's Fair visitors to find that tokay grapes grow in the United States as far north as Duluth, Minn. The particular place where this may be done is Lewiston, Idaho, on the banks of the Snake river. Whatever is done along the Snake river in the matter of agriculture and horticulture must be done with irrigation, however.

The remarkable things done under irrigation are portrayed by a number of states. Colorado has a relief map of the Arkansas valley. Utah shows a diorama of one of her irrigated valleys. California exhibits her products from lands worth a thousand dollars an acre. Oregon displays her beautiful fruits and grains from irrigated districts, while Idaho, her next door neighbor, won twenty gold medals on her agricultural showing.

The tokay grapes from Lewiston are only one of 62 varieties now successfully grown at that far northern point where the climate is almost as mild as Italy, for the tokay cannot flourish where the winters are cold. Along with the tokay is a fine sweet grape from Syria, in which every grape and fruit grower will be interested. The name is Hunisa, or Antab late, from Antab. It is large, very dark, and a fine keeper, the last being its most important quality. After traveling over 1,500 miles to the World's Fair it opened up in as fine condition as the tokay, and made a good show. These grapes are from the first vine of this variety fruited in America.

Another fact not well known is that grains grown by irrigation in the dry atmosphere of the western slope of the Rocky mountains are much heavier than those grown in the east, and the yield is far greater. In the Idaho exhibit of the Palace of Agriculture at the World's Fair are many examples of irrigation results. A sack of oats was received at the exhibit a few days ago which was graded by one of the machines in the building and tested as to weight. It was found that the third, or poorest grade, weighed 38 pounds to the bushel, while the standard of weight for oats is only 32 pounds to the bushel. The yield is 100 to 110 bushels to the acre, and Idaho oats ordinarily weigh 42 to 46 pounds to the bushel. An acre of irrigated land yields about three times as much as an acre in a humid climate. Wheat in southern Idaho is 62 to 64 pounds to the bushel, the standard being 60 pounds, and the yield 50 to 70 bushels to the acre. A bundle of alfalfa hay, second crop of 1904, brought from southern Idaho, is as tall as a man, a six-footer. Five to seven tons to the acre are grown each season, it being cut usually three times.

All over southern Idaho, which for the most part is a vast desert, are cases that have been made fruitful by irrigation. The liberal provisions of the Cary Act of Congress have made possible the reclamation of these lands, the state taking over the lands and disposing of them to settlers at 50 cents an acre. The water right is an extra cost, in some cases as low as $25 an acre for a perpetual right, the first one or two crops often paying the entire cost of a fine property. Only a few days ago the state land board of Idaho threw open to settlement 100,000 acres of land under one canal at Twin Falls, on the south side of Snake river. It is in Cassia county, one of the counties that touch the Nevada border. In this instance the total cost per acre is $25.50, and under the liberal terms of the Cary Act entry may be made through another person. The payment is in easy installments.

Many of the exhibits in the Idaho display are from along the Snake river, which is so named because of its sinuous course, and not because of any snakes. The water for the Twin Falls tract, which embraces 270,000 acres, is from the Snake, and the cost of the 2,000 foot dam and the 100 miles of main canals is about $2,500,000. A railroad is being constructed from Minidoka southward to cross the tract, which is expected to repeat the history of the Wood River Country, the Boise and Payette Valleys, and become a populous part of the state.

Idaho has the honor of showing in her agricultural display something that very few farmers have ever seen, namely, white flax seed. This variety of flax originated in Idaho, and is said to possess great commercial possibilities, because it is richer in oil and produces a grade of very light colored oil that is far more desirable for white paint than the darker grade.

Idaho is trying to do what other mountain states are attempting, that is, to supply the home market with fruits, vegetables, meats, grains and dairy products. The mountains contain hundreds of mining camps and settlements where everything now produced finds ready market, while the demand increases with each new mining district opened.

Corn is about the only thing that does not grow well in the irrigated deserts of southern Idaho, because the summer nights are cool, but a kind of grain is raised called corn wheat that takes the place of corn, and produces over 100 bushels to the acre. It is worth any farmer's time to take a good look at the odd things in the Idaho display, where there are 47 varieties of wheat, 41 varieties of oats, 32 varieties of barley, and 34 varieties of grasses, to say nothing of vegetables, beans, peas, honey and other things worth having.

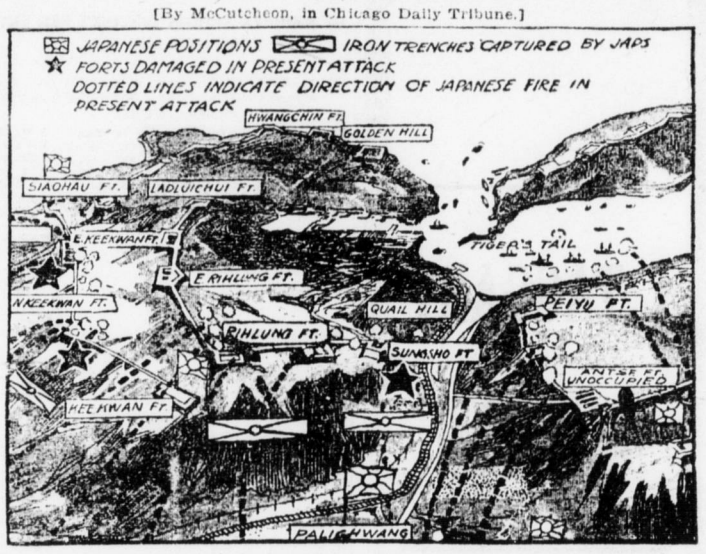
RELIEF MAP ILLUSTRATING ATTACK ON PORT ARTHUR.

[By McCutcheon, in Chicago Daily Tribune.]



Russo-Japanese Struggle.

PEACE PROPOSAL REJECTED.

London, Nov. 11.—Japan unofficially has made representations to Russia looking to peace. This action has resulted in failure and such representations, even privately, are not likely to be repeated by Japan.

Although the suggestion of a pacific settlement was made unofficially it had behind it all the weight of an offer by the Japanese government. It was made direct to Russia. No power acted as an intermediary. The proposition was put forward tentatively and unofficially, so that the Japanese government would be in a position to deny any report that it was suing for peace. The failure of these direct negotiations, however, resulted in bringing intervention within a measurable distance.

Foreign Secretary Lansdowne's plea for arbitration Wednesday evening at the Guildhall banquet is taken here to be a pointed suggestion to the United States and France that the time is approaching when the powers must take some action.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 11.—In official circles Lord Lansdowne's veiled suggestion that the Russo-Japanese conflict might be settled by arbitration finds an unfavorable echo. The sentiment prevails stronger than ever that Russia's prestige must be vindicated before the idea of peace can be entertained.

Tokio, Nov. 11.—It is reported that Gen. Stoessel, commanding at Port Arthur, has asked the Japanese for an armistice, the purpose of which is not stated. A confirmation of the report is unobtainable.

A report from Gen. Nogi's headquarters before Port Arthur, dated November 9, says: "The enemy's military warehouse situated in the northern part of Port Arthur was bombarded November 6 with heavy siege and naval guns. The bombardment caused a conflagration. On the afternoon of November 6 the magazine of an old battery on Sung Chow mountain was exploded by our shells."

Che Foo, Nov. 11.—Itze Mountain, according to Chinese, 120 of whom arrived here yesterday from Port Arthur, is proving a costly obstacle to the Japanese. On the mornings of November 5 and 6 fierce assaults on the position were made by the Japanese, who were repulsed. During the second assault a shell, soaring over the other hills from Palichuang, dopped on Itze Mountain and demolished a land mine and the mine-controlling station and exploded other mines.

The Russians were holding the trenches on the boundary of the mined section. Six or seven hundred were killed or wounded.

Mukden, Nov. 11.—The Japanese yesterday assumed the offensive on the left bank of the Hun river and occupied three villages. The Russians, however, attacked and drove them out again.

COSSACK RAIDERS PESTER JAPS.

Mukden, Nov. 12.—The positions of the armies on both sides remain little changed, though there is continual skirmishing going on, with the object of securing minor positions tending to strengthen the respective lines of defence. The Russian scouts are very daring in secretly reconnoitering the whole of the Japanese lines, some even creeping up to the Japanese trenches and lying concealed there all day and returning at night. The Japanese have constructed in many places double and even triple and quadruple lines of trenches, wire entanglements, mines and pits.

A Cossack patrol on November 10 penetrated as far as Sandiapu, where they inflicted a blow against a large force of Japanese and then returned rapidly to the Russian main line without loss. A patrol also got in the rear of two Japanese companies moving to attack a Russian position. The Cossacks defeated the Japanese and returned safely to the Russian lines.

It is known that the Japanese have placed guns of large caliber in the vicinity of Shakhe railway station, bringing Schiatun, the next station to the north, within the range of their fire.

The Russians are hoisting manikins for the purpose of drawing the Japanese fire, and they also make a practice of bantering the Japanese in other ways.

Reports of the grave condition of the besieged at Port Arthur have reached Mukden, and as a consequence the Russians will not be surprised to learn of the capitulation of the fortress.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 12.—A corrected casualty list of the ten-day battle of the Shakhe river issued by the war office places the total of killed or wounded at 33,250, of whom 900 were officers. The first returns, it is explained, contained duplication and some of the men were so slightly wounded that they returned to the ranks in a few days.

THE NORTH SEA TRAGEDY.

A Commission of English, Russian, American and French Admirals Will Meet in Paris.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 10.—Final details covering the Anglo-Russian convention regarding the North Sea incident have been completed by the acceptance by Russia in writing of certain points. Invitations will now be issued jointly by the two governments to the United States and France to appoint admirals to serve on the commission, which will meet at the earliest possible moment in Paris to select the fifth member. In case of the failure of the four admirals to agree, the two powers will ask a sovereign to name him. Although neither Russia nor Great Britain pledges herself in advance to punish the offenders, both agree to accept the findings of the commission, thus imposing upon each other a moral obligation to deal with any culpability established according to the laws of the respective countries.

The Russian inquiry into the reported firing on the German fishing vessel Sonntag by the Russian second Pacific squadron in the North Sea on October 21 having established to the satisfaction of the authorities that one of the Russian warships did fire upon the German vessel with the result that she lost her fishing nets, has agreed to pay full compensation to the owner of the Sonntag.

WIRELESS MESSAGES.

They Were Sent from the World's Fair Grounds to Men In a Balloon.

St. Louis, Nov. 12.—As the result of a scientific experimental balloon ascension made Friday from the aeronautic concourse on the world's fair grounds, the practicability and accuracy with which wireless messages could be received, both as to altitude and distance, were satisfactorily tested. More than 20 messages were transmitted from the world's fair wireless tower and received by the operator in the aerial craft.

Paul Knabenshue, of Toledo, accompanied by the operator, A. W. McQueen, of Guthrie, Okla., and W. S. Foreman, of St. Louis, made the ascension. After making a successful journey through the air, one hour and a half in duration, Aeronaut Knabenshue made a safe landing four miles southwest of the concourse. The balloon was carried back in a wagon to the aerodrome. The highest altitude reached was estimated at about two miles.

A Murder on Manitou Island.

Ashland, Wis., Nov. 12.—John Neveaux, aged 19 years, and Mrs. Hugh Murray, his aunt, are under arrest here, having been brought from Manitou Island, about 40 miles distant, and held to await an investigation into the killing of Hugh Murray by the boy. The story told by a fisherman who arrived here in a sail boat from the island was that Murray came home drunk and attacked his wife. He was choking her when Neveaux interfered. Murray then grabbed his rifle and pointed it at the boy, who shot Murray through the body, killing him.

A New Departure.

Berlin, Nov. 11.—Emperor William has decided to hereafter use the pardoning power liberally in cases of lese majeste. This is a radical departure from the previous practice. It heretofore had been practically unknown for the emperor to pardon a person convicted of this offence. It is now said that he intends to pardon almost without exception when the offender is shown to belong to the uneducated classes, or to be incapable of weighing the consequences of a hasty word. Also offences committed during drunkenness.

Plans a Subway for Chicago.

Chicago, Nov. 12.—Consulting Engineer George W. Jackson has submitted to the council committee on local transportation plans for an underground loop system. They make it practicable to put in operation the one-fare street car proposal without the issuing of transfers; render grade crossings at intersections unnecessary; enable cars from the different divisions of the city to be transferred to whatever division they may be directed to and provide a ten-foot walk for passengers to go underground to any station desired.

TOOK BOY'S SUGGESTION.

Plowboy Came Out of the Field and Told Railroaders How to Start Stalled Engine.

A traveling man relates that while riding on the new orient line between Harper and Anthony a few days ago, one of the side rods of the engine broke, and the other side stopped on a "dead center," so that when the repair was made it was impossible to start again. According to the Kansas City Star he says:

"The engineer, the conductor and all the passengers took turns going over the thing and trying to devise a way to make it run. Finally a boy came out of the field where he had been plowing to see what was going on. He crawled through the wire fence and sat down on the bank and fanned himself with his straw hat. 'If you'd back that last car up the grade an' let 'er come down gerchunk, that 'ud start 'er,' he finally suggested, deliberately.

"The railroad men sniffed contemptuously, but the passengers sided with the boy. Finally the conductor gave orders that the rear car be uncoupled. No less than 50 passengers caught hold and pushed the car up the grade. Once at the top the car was let go. The loose coach gained momentum as it came down hill, and in spite of the engineer's admonition to 'let her come down easy,' the emergency battering ram crashed into the train with a tremendous thump. The engine was bumped off 'center' all right."

Best in the World.

Cream, Ark., Nov. 7 (Special).—After eighteen months' suffering from Epilepsy, Backache and Kidney Complaint, Mr. W. H. Smith, of this place, is a well man again and those who have watched his return to health unhesitatingly give all the credit to Dodd's Kidney Pills. In an interview regarding his cure, Mr. Smith says:

"I had been low for eighteen months with my back and kidneys and also Epilepsy. I had taken everything I knew of and nothing seemed to do me any good till a friend of mine got me to send for Dodd's Kidney Pills. I find that they are the greatest medicine in the world, for now I am able to work and am in fact as stout and strong as before I took sick."

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure the Kidneys. Cured Kidneys cleanse the blood of all impurities. Pure blood means good health.

Sights in Kansas.

A traveler from the east shortly after leaving Kansas City asked the porter how long it would be before the train emerged from the tunnel through which it was passing. "Dis ain't no tunnel, sah," replied the porter. "We's jes' passin' fru de Kansas corn belt and de tall stalks shuts out the sun. Yo' won't see no mo' daylight foh 200 miles."—Chicago Chronicle.

Santa Fe Engines at World's Fair.

All the world loves a locomotive. There is something lifelike about the iron monster that whisks us at a mile a minute pace across the country. It seems to be a person, not a thing. The crowds who have been recently watching the test of Santa Fe engine No. 507 (a Baldwin of 175 tons weight) in Machinery Hall, World's Fair grounds, St. Louis, will testify to fascination unexplainable. Not merely the size, nor the wheels going around, nor the throbbing steam—but all these and more. The engineer at the throttle and the fireman at the furnace door share the general admiration.

The test showed conclusively that the prairie type used by the Santa Fe in hauling its fastest passenger flyers represents the best achievement of modern engine building.

Worried.

"Why, dear," said the poet's wife after the acceptance of his first poem by a magazine, "what is the matter? You seem to be awfully downcast."

QUICK RESULTS.

W. J. Hill, of Concord, N. C., Justice of the Peace, says: "Doan's Kidney Pills proved a very efficient remedy in my case. I used them for disordered kidneys and backache, from which I had experienced a great deal of trouble and pain. The kidney secretions were very irregular, dark colored and full of sediment. The Pills cleared it all up and I have not had an ache in my back since taking the last dose. My health generally is improved a great deal."

Miss Rose Hennessy, well known as a poetess and elocutionist, of Lexington, Ky., tells how she was cured of uterine inflammation and ovaritis by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have been so blessedly helped through the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I feel it but just to acknowledge it, hoping that it may help some other woman suffering as I did.

"For years I enjoyed the best of health and thought that I would always do so. I attended parties and receptions thinly clad, and would be suddenly chilled, but I did not think of the results. I caught a bad cold eighteen months ago while menstruating, and this caused inflammation of the womb and congested ovaries. I suffered excruciating pains and kept getting worse. My attention was called to your Vegetable Compound and the wonderful cures it had performed, and I made up my mind to try it for two months and see what it would do for me. Within one month I felt much better, and at the close of the second I was entirely well.

"I have advised a number of my lady friends to use it, and all express themselves as well satisfied with the results as I was."—MISS ROSE NORA HENNESSY, 410 S. Broadway, Lexington, Ky.

The experience and testimony of some of the most noted women of America go to prove beyond a question that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will correct all such trouble and at once, by removing the cause, and restoring the organs to a normal and healthy condition.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—About two years ago I consulted a physician about my health which had become so wretched that I was no longer able to be about. I had severe backache, bearing-down pains, pains across the abdomen, was very nervous and irritable, and this trouble grew worse each month. The physician prescribed for me, but I soon discovered that he was unable to help me, and I then decided to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and soon found that it was doing me good. My appetite was returning, the pains disappearing, and the general benefits were well marked.

"You cannot realize how pleased I was, and after taking the medicine for only three months, I found that I was completely cured of my trouble, and have been well and hearty ever since, and no more fear the monthly period, as it now passes without pain to me. Yours very truly, MISS PEARL ACKERS, 327 North Summer St., Nashville, Tenn."

When a medicine has been successful in restoring to health more than a million women, you cannot well say without trying it "I do not believe it will help me." If you are ill, do not hesitate to get a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and write Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass., for special advice. Her advice is free and helpful. Write to-day. Delay may be fatal.

$5000 FORFEIT if we cannot forthwith produce the original letters and signatures of above testimonials, which will prove their absolute genuineness.

UNDERTAKING

The Englishwoman's Latchkey.

Talking about the British aristocracy, a woman who has met it on its native heath tells me that the feminine section of it never stirs out without a latchkey. We carry latchkeys over here, but we don't do it in the British way. The American woman ties her key in the corner of her handkerchief or hides it under the mat or puts it into her purse along with cold cream recipes and car tickets and samples. The Englishwoman parades hers. The woman who knows her tells me that she has seen latchkeys set with precious stones and fastened to long chains. She has seen them gilded and strung from belts; she has seen them with pins on the back of them, worn as brooches. She tells me that the Englishwoman would no sooner leave her latchkey at home than her husband would his bath. The thing is possibly new to the Englishwoman and, being new, is paraded. With us over here it is an old story. Possessing the reality, the symbol is of small moment to us. We are content to leave the latchkey under the mat.—Washington Post.

A Philosopher as a Fisherman.

Herbert Spencer once won a curious wager. He was staying for a fishing holiday in the house of Sir Francis Powell, the president of the Scottish academy, and while angling for trout he happened to drop his eyeglasses into a deep pool of the river. In the evening he related his misadventure to his host and the guests, and said that he was prepared to bet that he would recover the pince-nez from the bottom of the pool. His friends declared that this was an impossible feat, but Herbert Spencer still offered to make the bet. His challenge was accepted by one of the visitors. Upon the following evening Spencer returned to the house with the missing eyeglasses. He had fastened a strong magnet on the end of his fishing line and fished for the glasses until it came into contact with their steel rims.

Floating Targets of the Sea.

Even the French and British warships that patrol the Newfoundland coast during the fishery season do not escape the danger of icebergs, crowded with men and carefully navigated though the vessels are. The ice masses serve a novel purpose for the fleets all the summer through, being used as targets for big gun practice. When a specially formidable one drifts along past St. John's a cruiser slips her moorings and runs to sea after it, pelting it with projectiles until she fires away her allowance. It is one of the sights of St. John's, the endless procession of icebergs of every size and shape that drift by day after day, charming the eye and cooling the summer atmosphere. Sometimes they ground in the harbor mouth and prevent ships entering or leaving.—P. T. McGrath in McClure's.

Palestine.

When one thinks of the great events that have taken place in the Holy Land, the multitude of cities, villages and towns, the countless millions who have been born there and whose bones now lie in its rock ribbed hills, the small dimensions of Palestine are almost startling. West of the Jordan, where most of the historic events took place, there are only 3,800 square miles, including all the geographical divisions now called Palestine. Including the land both east and west of the Jordan, the total area is 9,840 square miles. The length of Palestine from north to south is about 150 miles. It varies in breadth from twenty-three to eighty miles.

Wanted None of His Art.

At a dinner in London, Theodore Watts-Dunton said: "It isn't generally known that Turner, the painter, and Dr. Augustus Pritchard once lived together for a year in Cheyne row. The painter and the physician had a fine garden, and they took a good deal of pride in their flowers. But the garden gate did not work well, and one day Turner, because it wouldn't open, pettishly gave orders that it be nailed up. It was thought that this odd act would enrage Augustus Pritchard, but, on being told of it, all he said was, 'Oh, well, I don't care what Turner does to the gate, so long as he doesn't paint it.'"

Colds.

Every one knows when he contracts a cold on the chest. Not so with cold in the kidneys and bowels. The kidneys, however, are the weak point in many men and women nowadays, and they may be well protected by wearing a roll of white flannel, which should be about a foot wide and go twice around the waist for winter and once for summer. Try it, reader, if you have any tendency to bladder or kidney trouble.—Exchange.

A Mean Bank.

"Madam, you've already overdrawn your account."

"What's that?"

"You haven't any more money in the bank."

"The idea! A fine bank, I think, to be out of money because of the little I've drawn! Well, I'll go somewhere else."

A Philosopher.

Rivers—What do you do when you wake up in the night with jumping toothache? Brooks—I try to be thankful it isn't galloping consumption.

Trying to Forget It.

Mifkins—Hello, old man! What do you think of that cigar I gave you last night? Bifkins—Don't ask me to think. I'm trying to forget it.
